

Hudson Highlands Regional
River of Words
Teacher Workshop

Wednesday, April 1st, 2009 from 4-6 pm
Desmond Fish Library
(Route 9D & 403, Garrison, NY)

Connecting Local Kids to the Hudson River Watershed, their Imaginations, & the World through Poetry & Art . . .

Presenters:

Lisa Mechaley - Environmental Educator, Hudson Highlands Land Trust

Rich Parisio - River of Words New York State Coordinator

Irene O'Garden - Author and Performance Poet

This workshop will:

- Provide educators with a foundation for incorporating the program seamlessly into existing curriculum,
- Familiarize them with the variety of fun & engaging facilitated student workshops & outdoor field studies offered, and
- Present information on events throughout the Hudson Highlands & beyond for students to showcase their watershed-inspired poetry and art.

An "afterschool snack" of delicious light fare will be provided.

To RSVP, please email Lisa Mechaley at: row@hhlt.org or call HHLT: 845-424-3358

The Hudson Highlands Regional River of Words program for teachers and their students is sponsored by the Hudson Highlands Land Trust through a generous grant from the Malcolm Gordon Charitable Trust.
