Blooming Grove Residents Invited to Complete Online Public Survey on Natural Heritage Project

Online survey intended to help guide municipal planning and protection of water resources, farmland, wildlife habitat, scenic beauty and recreational areas

The Blooming Grove Conservation Advisory Commission (BGCAC), in partnership with the Orange County Land Trust (OCLT) and the Hudson Highlands Land Trust (HHLT) are seeking public input for the Cornwall-Blooming Grove Natural Heritage Project (NHP) via an online survey designed to identify which open space characteristics and natural areas residents value most in their communities. The survey can be accessed at:
www.surveymonkey.com/r/BloomingGroveNHP

The survey should take 7-10 minutes to complete and will be open through the end of November.

The NHP will result in an open space inventory for the Town of Blooming Grove, building upon the Natural Resource Inventory (NRI) work already completed by the BGCAC. Based on public input, community leadership discussions, and the data collected through the NRI process, the NHP will identify and prioritize open spaces that are important to the community. The project will also examine the importance of open spaces to our local economy and quality of life.

Information gathered from the public via the survey will provide critical information for municipal planning and the conservation and protection of water resources, farmlands, wildlife habitat, and scenic and recreational areas. Participation in the survey will also educate and engage the public on issues related to conservation in their community.

The NHP has been funded in part by a grant from the New York State Environmental Protection Fund through the Hudson River Estuary Program of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.
